Chaos as ship blocks harbour

Port deliveries suspended

Trapped Cargo ship brings chaos to Pike harbour

A cargo ship has wrought chaos on the Tall Tails Estate by managing to get itself blocked in the harbour during a very unfortunate manoeuvre which effectively brought all port deliveries to a standstill.

This has brought much hardship to businesses and citizens who rely on the port for their income.

The Ponifia immediately offered support to those affected and cited their recent example of paying the legal fees for the now convicted pony thief.

An unnamed source speaking for the Ponifia stated "In line with our long tradition of helping those in need, we stand ready to support those impacted by the port blockage."

Some may well question how this charitable approach contrasts with the Ponizei who this week ran one of their police carts right through the middle an ongoing Flower Dressage sign-off lesson and then blamed the ponies.

It is understood that a secret conference between the Ponifia and the Ponizei was called to see what could be done to help those impacted, but it is understood no major initiatives were forthcoming.

In a further developing story, it has been suggested that the cargo ship was bringing in a large (and illegal) water canon with the delivery address marked 'Ponizei HQ'. Is there any truth to this rumour?

Your trusty gazette will continue to investigate and keep you informed of developments!

Pony Caravan: Heterocera

For those that are curious, the next Pony caravan route will feature a beautiful sunset coastal trail.

It will explore Heterocera, using the scenic west coastal Route, with a boardwalk style path featuring spectacular oceanside views! It will start slightly inland and then head South and North, eventually along the coast! The After Ride Party will be hosted at the Sunset Stable.

So oil your cartwheels, put on your sun tan lotion for this amazing multi-stable event scheduled for Sat 1st May at 12PM SLT.

Please remember to prepare and wear a very low lag mainland tack. Please check discord for details on when the next class is being held on best approaches.
