

22nd May 2021
12pm SLT
After Party
-SnR Stable

Special Report :
What are the different types of ponies?

TALL TAILS ART
EXHIBIT & COMPETITION
 24.05 - 30.05 (submission by 21st)
 by Magic Lacroix & Camilla

Imminent Crimewave Feared

Estate hit by Graffiti vandals dishonouring Ponizei

The Tall Tails Police Department (TTPD) were horrified to discover their pride and joy billboard has been vandalised by people or persons unknown but possibly connected to some kind of underground movement. The Ponizei title was replaced by 'criminals' and the words "They are not your friends" brutally sprayed over the picture of our brave and proud Ponizei agents.

The Ponizei are concerned that this may be the start of some kind of campaign against them in the form of graffiti and petty vandalism by a small group of rabble raisers.

This is a call for action. The Ponizei needs you to be its eyes and ears in the coming couple of weeks. Please take photographic evidence where you see a crime taking place and submit it to the Ponizei so these perpetrators can be brought to justice. They want pictures of the crime and any evidence of anyone involved including any ponies.

If the Ponizei can get enough photos of a given perpetrator, or if they directly catch them in the act, they'll arrange an arrest of that person and/or pony to answer to the charges.

Ponizei Captain Axelle Beorn stated "Together we will defeat this disrespectful uprising and ensure the continued peace and security of all citizens in the estate under the watchful care and security of the Ponizei".

Types of Ponies: Part 1 - Cute Pony

In a new series starting today, Tricky Trouble takes a light-hearted look at some of the different types of ponies she has encountered over the years. This first episode covers the category she calls 'Cute Pony'.

The cute pony usually knows it is cute and appears very confident in nature. The issue with cute ponies is similar to the issue with old ponies (covered soon). They have an 'aura' about them that puts a trainer off grabbing them. It is important in these cases for a trainer to realise that the pony made itself cute for the very purpose of being grabbed and played with.

On the other hand, if someone spent hours making their avatar and tack perfect then they probably have very high expectations of whoever grabs them. Don't let this put you off. Adopt a common-sense approach.

Don't lock the pony and leave, don't do permanent things and for goodness sake... don't change its look. There is nothing more annoying for someone who spent last millions of hours preparing their look than any suggestion that it could be better... On the other hand, if you enjoy playing with a pony's emotions, there is a perfect solution.

So how do you punish such a pony? Easy. Cut its hair and make it bald. If they will let you...

Pony Caravan

A fantastic time was had by all at the last Pony Caravan event on the 1st May and we had more than 60 people from different stables on the route and a wonderful after-party hosted by Sunset Stables. This event continues to grow from strength to strength.

The next Pony caravan will be on the 22th of May with a new route and this time the After Ride Party will be hosted by the infamous Stones 'n' Rubber (SnR) Stables.

Ahoy there Pony!

The first Tall Tails Regatta took place on 2nd May and was an absolute blast with lots of people attending and bringing with them a whole assortment of ships, boats and yes, even a nuclear submarine. Okay it may not have been a nuclear submarine but that sounded cooler.

Here are some pictures from the event and I am sure it has given everyone a taste for more. Most ponies were allowed out of tack for the event so they had a rare taste of freedom and it was a considerable job for the poor trainers to get them all rounded up and tacked up again in the following days.

